General Comment

Please allow my continued use of options to make covered calls and puts available to me in my 401k self directed IRA account. This is my account and the government should not restrict how I invest my money. I am more than capable of handling my investment choices without the government telling me it knows better, it does not.

Once again a philosophy of one size fits all is wrong. People need to be able to decide for themselves what is best for them not the government, especially when it is their money. This is yet another attempt by the lawmakers to once again take something that is working fine and screw it up. Please leave my option choice alone. A concerned citizen.

Thank you,
Rand Wickham
